The Managers of the Roman Catholic Orphan The Managers of the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylumes take occasion to return their most grateful acknowledgments for the prompt and efficient assistance extended from every quarter on the occasion of the recent accident to the Asylum in the av. They are, however, under especial obligations to the Superintendents of the Nursery and Child's Hospital in Stlesst, and of St. Luke's Hospital in Stlesst, and of St. Luke's Hospital in Stlesst, ERNEST KEYSER, and SETH FECKBAM, each of whom proflered whole buildings in the neighborhood as a refuge for the Sisters and the children under their care; to Prof. MAXIMILIAN OERTEL, who alone afforded food and shelter to forty; to the members of the Poilce Department, for the parental tenderness with which they provided for the little fugitives, whom they found wandering turough the streets; to the Press, for its sympathy in seconding tae appeal of the Managers for the means to restore the building ta proper condition.

In short, the managers feet that their obligations are not easily imited. The spontaneous expression of sympathy which seemingly exhibited a rivalry to be foremost in the work of relief intecates to them that the immediate beneficiaries heretofore a hieded to are but the noble exponents of the sentiments of the entire community, and they therefore tender—in their own name, is the name of the Sisters of Charity, and in the name of the betreaded little orpham—to all, the assurances of their most proferr digratitude.

popular American Authoress, Mrs. Ewn D. E. N. Southworth.
She is excelled by no living female writer in the world. Het style is free from insipidity on the one hand and bombast on the other; and though we meet with forcible, we are never startled with inflated language. Her characters are rarely under, but never overdrawn. Her scenes are life pictures, her incidents founded on facts, and her sentiments are characterized by a singular purity both of conception and expression. She has the rare faculty of saying what she means, and of saying it in such a manner as that her meaning cannot be misinterpreted. In short she possesses in an eminent degree those qualifications which the possesses in an eminent degree those quantications which are the peculiar prerogatives of a good writer; while she de-lights the reader's imagination with her descriptive beauty, she applies home truths to their understanding with the force of rational conviction. The "Haunted Homestead" has been oncurred by those who have read the proof-sheets, to be he at work. This is sufficient to commend it to perusal, and we anticipate for it a great popularity.

Orders from Booksellers, News Agents, and all others, will be thankfully received; and they will please send in their orders at once, and they will be filled with promptness and dispatch. NOTES ON NURSING; WHAT IT IS, AND WHAT IT IS NOT. FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

I vol. 12mo.

The following notes are by no means intended as a rule of thought by which nurses can seach the mest very thought by which nurses to nurse. They are meant simply to give hints for thought to worken who have personal charge of the health of others. Every woman, or at least almost every woman in England has, at one time or another of her life, charge of the personal health of somebody, whether child or invaliding the region of the personal health of somebody, whether child or invaliding the words, every woman is a nurse. Every day sanitary knowledge, or the knowledge of nursing, or in other words, how to put the constitution in such a state as that it will have no discase, takes a high place. It is recognized as the knowledge which every one ought to have—distinct from medical knowledge, which only a profession can have.

have.

If, then, every woman must, at some time or other of her life, become a nurse, i. e., have charge of somebody's health, how immense and how valuable would be the produce of her united experience, if every woman would think how to nurse.

I do not pretend it each her how; I ask her to teach herself; and for this purpose I venture to give her some hints.

24. They shall agree to pay Mr. Judson the same rate of tariffs which he shall charge other merchants in the trade, when his title is so established that the Courts will grant injunctions against infringers. Mr. Judeon proposes to make uniform and liberal settlements with all who subscribe this agreement. 3d. They shall agree that all Goods now on hand, in store, or in port, or that may be received hereafter, are not to be sold without Mr. Judeon's itemps and stamps.

fr. Judson's license and stamps.
We were surprised that Mr. Day, after the full hearing of the late Judge Ingersoll of this Court, that "if Day should commen se any such suits on the title set up by him, of May 24, 1858, the complainants might apply to the Court for an injunction re-straining such acts," which order is on the titles of the Court, and is still in force.

We had abstained from bringing any suits against infringers our rights, having the hope and belief that there would be speedy decision of this cause, but we have been disappointed.

The death of Judge Ingersell, the time that has elapsed we have been disappointed.

The death of Judge Ingersoil, the time that has empsed with out any decision, and the immense anjury Day is inflicting on our rights, have determined us to wait no longer, and to prosecute all infringers on our rights, including every person who has sold, or continues to sell, in violation of our rights, the goods aforesaid.

TO DEALERS and IMPORTERS in ELASTIC VULCANIZED RUBBER GOODS.
Referring to the card of WILLIAM JUDSON, also signed by Charles Goodyeav, in The Times of February 20, we give notice, that should any persons, companies, or firms be prosecuted by William Judson upon the false pretense that he has any right or title in such Vulcanized Rubber Goods as are, and have been claimed by us, they have only to hand over their papers and the management of their defense to Messra. Blatchford, Seward & Griswold, our Counsel, whereupon we will defend all such suits without costs or conditions, and hold all such persons, companies, or firms harmless against any and all claims of William Judson.
Nothing in this shall be deemed to release infringers from responsibility for infringing our adjudicated and established rights to the exclusive monopoly of these goods. All respectable merchants now see their safety in using Day's License Stamps, the security under which has been affirmed in about all the Circuits of the United States except California, where no suits have yet been brought to hearing.
